Notice of CFT Securities Regarding Disclosure of Order Routing Information

Pursuant to SEC Rule 606 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, CFT Securities, a Division of Glen Eagle Wealth, LLC makes available to its customers, on a quarterly basis, certain information regarding the identity of the venues to which its non-directed customers' orders are routed. This rule pertains to equities on the NYSE, those approved for inclusion in NASDAQ or any other national securities exchange, and certain options.

Rule 606 reports for CFT Securities and information on the CFT Securities routing policy may be found by contacting CFT Securities.

In addition, upon request, CFT Securities will furnish you with (i) a written copy of a Rule 606 report and/or (ii) the identity of the venue to which your orders were routed for execution in the six months prior to the request, whether the orders were directed orders or non-directed orders and the time of the transactions, if any, that resulted from such orders.

Statement of Order Routing Practices

CFT Securities, in an effort to seek best execution, may route non-directed customer orders to national securities exchanges, electronic communication networks ("ECN"), and other market centers. In turn, and in conjunction with best execution practices, CFT Securities may receive a monetary payment or other benefit in consideration for CFT Securities directing orders to a specific venue for execution. This may include, and is not limited to, a rebate or reduced processing charges.

For NASDAQ eligible orders, CFT Securities does not make a market in the trading of any eligible securities. All orders are transmitted directly to an individual market maker or ECN for execution on a fully-disclosed agency basis.
